

HAPPENINGS IN THE REALM OF SOCIETY.

WASHINGTON, BALTIMORE, NEW YORK.

Weddings and Engagements.

Miss Anna Angela George, daughter of the late Henry George, and William Churchill De Mille, son of Henry De Mille, the playwright, of Pompton, N. J., were married last evening at the George home, on the Shore Road, Fort Hamilton, N. Y. Although the weather was anything but agreeable, the house was filled with guests from Brooklyn, Manhattan, and out of town. The Rev. George H. Latimer, of Philadelphia, a cousin of the bride, officiated; John De Mille, an uncle of the bridegroom, was the best man, and the ushers were Richard George and Henry George, brothers of the bride. The bridesmaids were Miss Caroline B. George and Miss Alice L. George, cousins of the bride. The bride wore white satin with rare old point lace, her veil being caught back with a crescent of diamonds. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. After returning from the honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. De Mille will live in Pompton.

William Potter, of Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, former United States ambassador to Italy, has sent out invitations to the marriage of his daughter, Adeline Coleman, to Joseph Walker Wear, on Tuesday afternoon, April 14, at 4 o'clock, in St. Paul's Church, Chestnut Hill. Dr. J. Andrews Harris will perform the ceremony. The bride will be attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Vanuxem Potter, as maid of honor, and the following bridesmaids: Miss Margaret Shippen Buckley, Miss Ethel Langhorne Wister, Miss Dorothy Potter, Miss Margaret Potter, of East Orange, N. J.; Miss Frances Appleton Dana, of Cambridge, Mass.; and Miss Margaret North, of New York. James H. Wear, brother of the bridegroom, will be best man, and the ushers will be John Fairday West, Arthur Yancey Wear, David R. Francis, Jr., Ralph McKittrick, George Tiffany, of St. Louis; Thomas Farnam, Louis Stoddard, of New Haven, Conn.; Samuel Hawley, of Bridgeport, Conn.; Charles de Saulles, of Bethlehem, Pa.; and Wilson Potter.

Baltimore Chit-Chat.

A song recital under the patronage of the Young Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hospital for Consumptives was given last night at Lehmann's Hall for the benefit of the hospital.

The soloist was Miss Florence J. Woodford, soprano, assisted by Dr. J. Merrill Hopkinson, baritone. Miss Clara Ascherfeld was accompanist. The program was pleasing and well adapted to the fine and well trained voices of both singers. Miss Woodford was in splendid voice and the dramatic requirements of several songs were fully met by her rendering of them. Dr. Hopkinson sang in his usual admirable fashion "King Charles," a drinking song, and two duets by Hildach for baritone and soprano were the most noteworthy.

RAMAGE DISMISSED AND MAYOR CENSURED

No Evidence of Bribery Against Washington Man.

The charge of bribery against Matthew H. Ramage, of Washington, who was arrested several days ago in Mayor Johnson's office, Cleveland, Ohio, was dismissed in the police court of that city last Saturday. In discharging Ramage, the court officials severely censured Mayor Johnson and the police for making the arrest with "no evidence to substantiate the charge."

When the case was called, Prosecutor Schindler said that the affair was "windy and a grandstand play on the part of certain politicians." He further declared that the detective who made the arrest, also knew there was no evidence against Ramage, but had simply been following instructions.

NO RELIEF FROM THE MACHINE SWEEPER

P Street Residents Complain of Deafening Racket at Night.

Residents of Georgetown are up in arms against the sweeping of P Street by machines at night. In their complaint to the District Commissioners they point out that P Street is paved with Belgian block, and the noise made by the machines is deafening.

Warner Stutler, Superintendent of Street Cleaning, has reported that P Street is scheduled for sweeping three times a week, and the specifications of the contract are such that no change can be made. He says the sweeping at night is regarded as best for all concerned, and that it is not practicable to perform the work, except when the streets are destitute of traffic.

SECRET SERVICE DETECTS TWO COUNTERFEIT NOTES

The Secret Service has announced the discovery of two new counterfeit notes. One is a five-dollar silver certificate of the series of 1899 and the other a five-dollar national bank note. The latter apparently bears the seal of some secret order. It also has the picture of Garfield, and reads: "United States, the Citizens' International Bank, New York, pay to the bearer on demand $5.00." The silver certificate is a poorly executed production on thin, soft paper.
